La Gastronomia was born in 2014 from the dreams of Rita & Frankie, who made it their goal to come to the US from VENICE, ITALY, to bring authentic recipes learned from our grandmothers and passed down from one generation to another. A "Gastronomia" in Italy is simply a place where you buy cooked food but, as opposed to a supermarket, it's made fresh from scratch every day from a family to another family. That's exactly our MISSION.

We don't use processed or pre-packaged ingredients, we don't even have a freezer so when you eat our food, you can be sure it's wholesome, fresh and nourishing. Good food takes time to prepare, and wants time to be enjoyed! We import authentic meat and cheese from Italy, produced in ancient ways that are strictly regulated by the DOP/DOC certifications which assure the highest quality. You will also find some Italian specialty products on our shelves.

We use all natural or organic ingredients which we personally and carefully select.

When possible, we love to support local farms & products!
